

WHERE ELEGANCE FLOWS

Consumer Handbook, Jan. 2026

SINCE 1992

Three decades of expertise have shaped Marc into a brand people rely on. Our commitment to quality materials and dependable performance remains unchanged. Reintroduced with the same values, refined for today's needs. Designed to last, Built on trust.

THREE DECADES OF REMARKABLE ACHIEVEMENTS

BRAND

Introduction

At Marc, we know too well that only those who can anticipate changing lifestyles will provide products of true quality and value. As pioneers in the business of creating premium bath fittings and accessories in India, we were one of the earliest to realise that the bath space reflects your style statement, in much the same way as the rest of your home does. We also realised that it is as much a place for quiet contemplation, as it is for indulgence and personal grooming.

Which is why we have been developing and manufacturing new designs of bath fittings, without ever compromising on quality and attention to detail. It is an on-going process, requiring constant innovation and up-gradation.

Marc's R&D facilities are equipped with CAD/ CAM design software. Our engineers carefully define the technical specification of new products. We also keep in mind continuous feedback that we get from our clients, in order to bring about new product innovations. What's more, our range of well-designed, ergonomic products is not restricted to the premium, luxury models alone. Our design philosophy and policy is to offer modern fittings with a perfect finish across a wide range that fit different budgets. Which makes every Marc bath fitting that you buy for your home true and lasting value for money.

Focus on quality, from start to finish

Founded in 1962, we modernised our manufacturing facilities with a new plant in 1994 in Delhi. All processes required to transform designs through to the finished products were integrated at a single location. It was an unprecedented move in the industry at the time.

CASTING

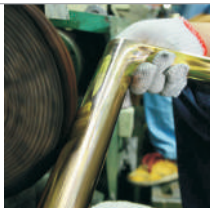

To start with, we melt high-grade brass ingots, which transform into faultless brass castings through semi-automatic gravity die-casting machines. The cores used in casting are manufactured by silica core shooting machines. This ensures uniform wall thickness inside the faucet. To meet the expectations of our customers, we have ensured that we remain at the very top end of engineering quality and reliability. Therefore, we have invested in fully automatic, low-pressure, die casting machines and fully automatic sand blasting machines at our new manufacturing facility at Delhi

MACHINING

The machining on the castings is carried out on fully automatic and semi-automatic precision machines. Automatic traub machines are used for internal working parts. We also ensure complete consistency in the brass and internal head parts.

GRINDING & POLISHING

In addition to manual grinding machines, this department is equipped with fully automatic rotary polishing machines, in order to ensure extra smooth finishes and consistent quality every single time.

SURFACE FINISHES ELECTROPLATING

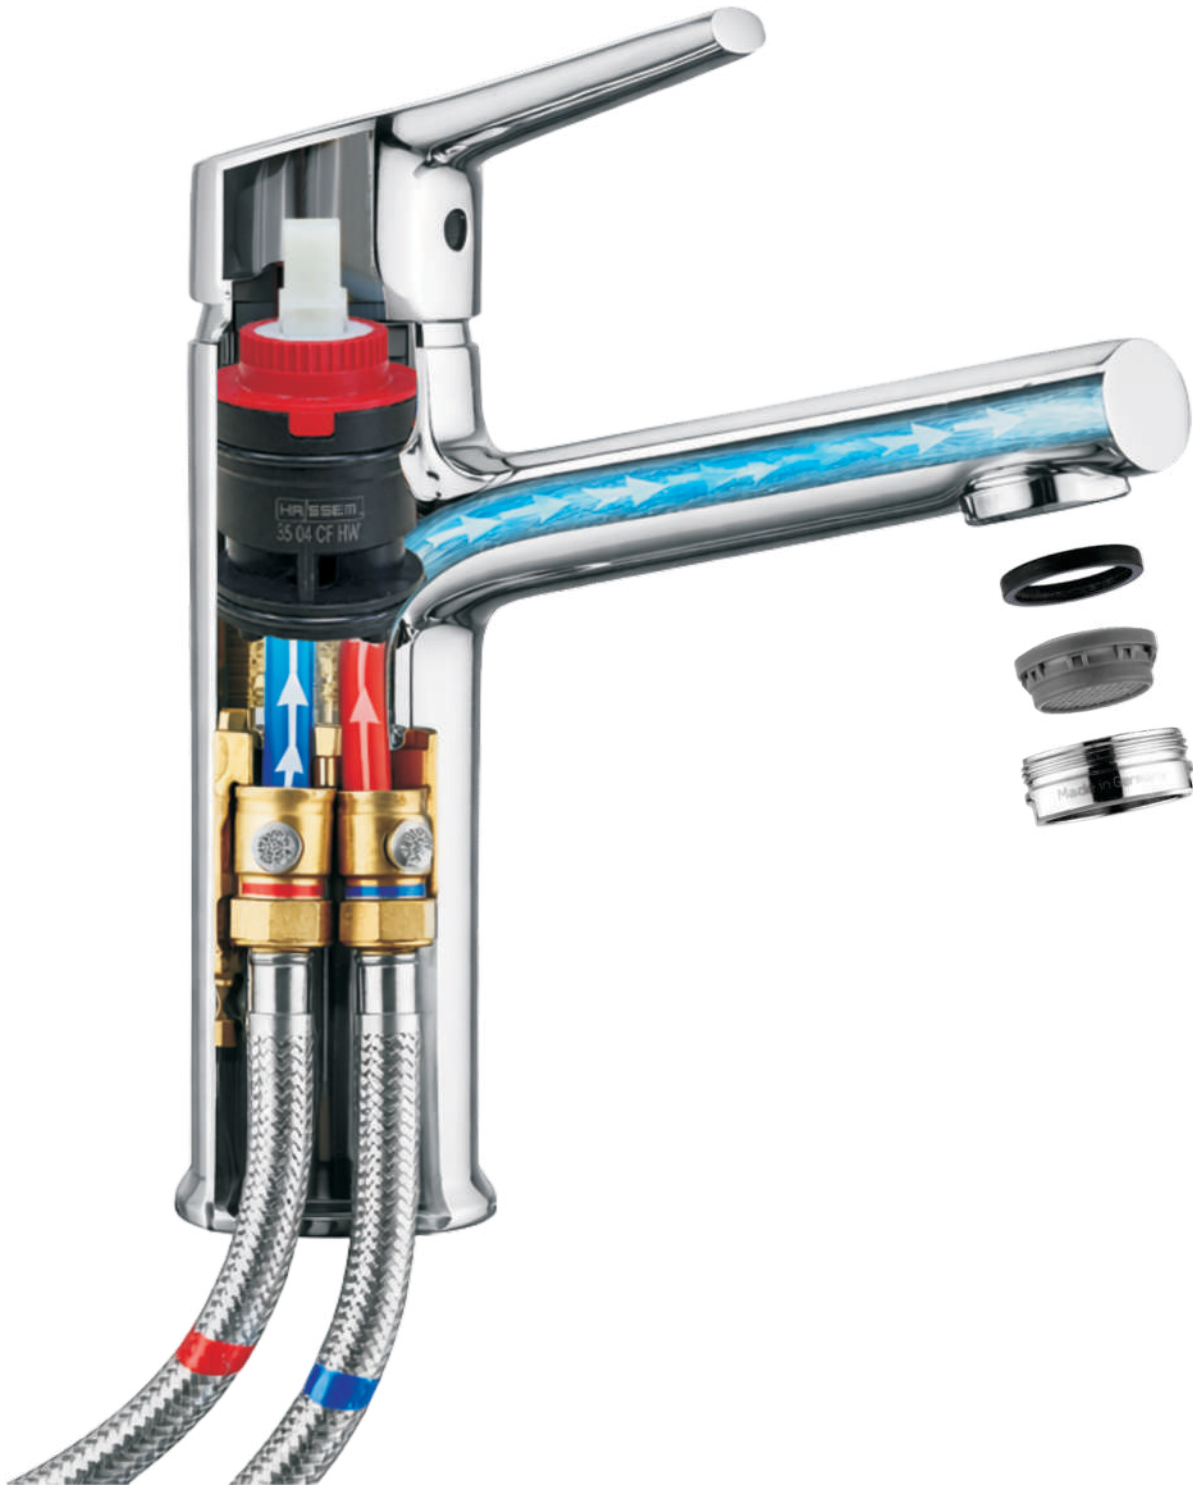

Our modern, single-roof manufacturing facilities include an ultra-modern electroplating plant which ensures durable Ni-Chrome plating, as well as an electrostatic powder coating plant that ensures that basic colour coatings do not fade or chip-off. In fact, our latest chemical coating plant makes it possible for us to offer attractive colours with long lasting finishes. At Marc, all 24 kt gold plated components are given an extra protective layer of electrophoretic lacquer with the help of the latest equipment imported from U.K./Germany as per international standards.

STRINGENT QUALITY STANDARDS

All Marc bath fittings are easy for the plumber to install. We use silicon-ceramic valves with polished sealing discs in most of our fittings. What's more, the convenient 900 valves make our two-handle mixers and 3-hole models as easy to operate as the single lever mixers. In addition, our single lever mixers are fitted with international ceramic cartridges, thoughtfully designed and tested for smooth working. Finally, each faucet is assembled by hand by specially trained expert staff and subjected to comprehensive inspection and functional checks. All our faucets are vigorously tested at an operating pressure of 150 psi and static pressure of 300 psi. All our internal cartridges are type tested for minimum specified cycles. We also subject our surface finishes to destructive tests, in order to maintain the specified standards of life expectancy.

Precision-Crafted Brass Body, Superior Cartridge and mechanisms built to last—Because Marc Quality never fades.

ENGINEERED INSIDE. ELEGANT OUTSIDE.

When Our Customers Touch A MARC Product, We Want Them To Sense Its Premium Quality.

At Marc, our idea of providing coordinated designs of bath fittings comes to you with the conviction of lasting values and standards. Our service executives maintain a continuous dialogue with experienced dealers, technicians and architects, in all the main cities and in every state in India. Our customer service department ensures practical guidance and assistance during the installation of our products. This unwavering commitment to quality coupled with customer confidence open up an exciting world of challenges and opportunities at Marc. They help us provide you with products that are of lasting value and true reflections of your modern, changing lifestyle.
